WEST HIGH SCHOOL
2910 N. 19th Ave.
Phoenix, Arizona 85015

This will probably be the last issue of the "WESTERNER" -- according to the newest directive from the governing board, West High School will no longer exist after this school year ends. Both Phoenix Vocational Academic Center and the Traditional school will occupy these buildings in the future. Naturally, there will always be a West High in our memories. This is the thirty-third volume of the yearbook and while it is not the smallest, it does contain fewer pages this year. The elimination of many programs and activities have brought about the change.

Many things stand out when recalling the school year -- the free breakfast before the C.A.T. test -- the day students were sent home because of the power failure -- the prom and other dances -- registration at West for students that will be leaving next year -- all in all, it has been a different year. You have seen it all - now let these pages help remind you of the 1982 - 83 school year.

Football captains, Brian Wills and Fernando Cota, seniors, try to encourage everyone to attend the Homecoming game.

Martha Hernandez and Rita Cox are getting their scalp massaged in Mrs. Bradshaw's 6th and 7th hours cosmetology class. Why is Rita smiling at the camera?

Ms. Bilse's third hour MRT 2 class (Modern Reading Techniques) study their latest reading assignment while she helps Hector Rosas.

E. T. makes special effort to come to our Homecoming assembly.

Students register in the gymnasium for the next school year for the school in their attendance area, the school of their choice, PVAC, or Traditional.

Students from all the different schools combined on West's campus, "get down" to the music at the Halloween Dance sponsored by MECHA.

Students give their undivided attention to a representative from Plaza Three who is speaking to them on personal developments.

Rumor is that Thor, our mascot, can't stand up or the pants would fall down!

Security guard, Gilbert Cabrales, is caught in the midst of changing a record at the Halloween dance sponsored by MECHA.

Playing "Tarzan" kept the school yardmen busy during part of the year. The real work comes with the warmer weather when students deposit litter on the campus.

West High's "wardens," Raymond Ingram, Frances Hagler, Irene Kennemer, Joanne Kartchner, Salvadore Ortiz, and Gilbert Cabrales, line up at the orientation to be introduced to the incoming freshmen.

Homecoming royalty nominees, Auggie Acosta, Dawn Wyatt, Claude Robinson, Debbie Pitman, Elisio Ramirez, and Terri Charlesworth, line up at the assembly.

Returning from the past, the ghost of Jacob Marley (Eric Jackson) comes back to haunt his former partner, Ebenezer Scrooge.

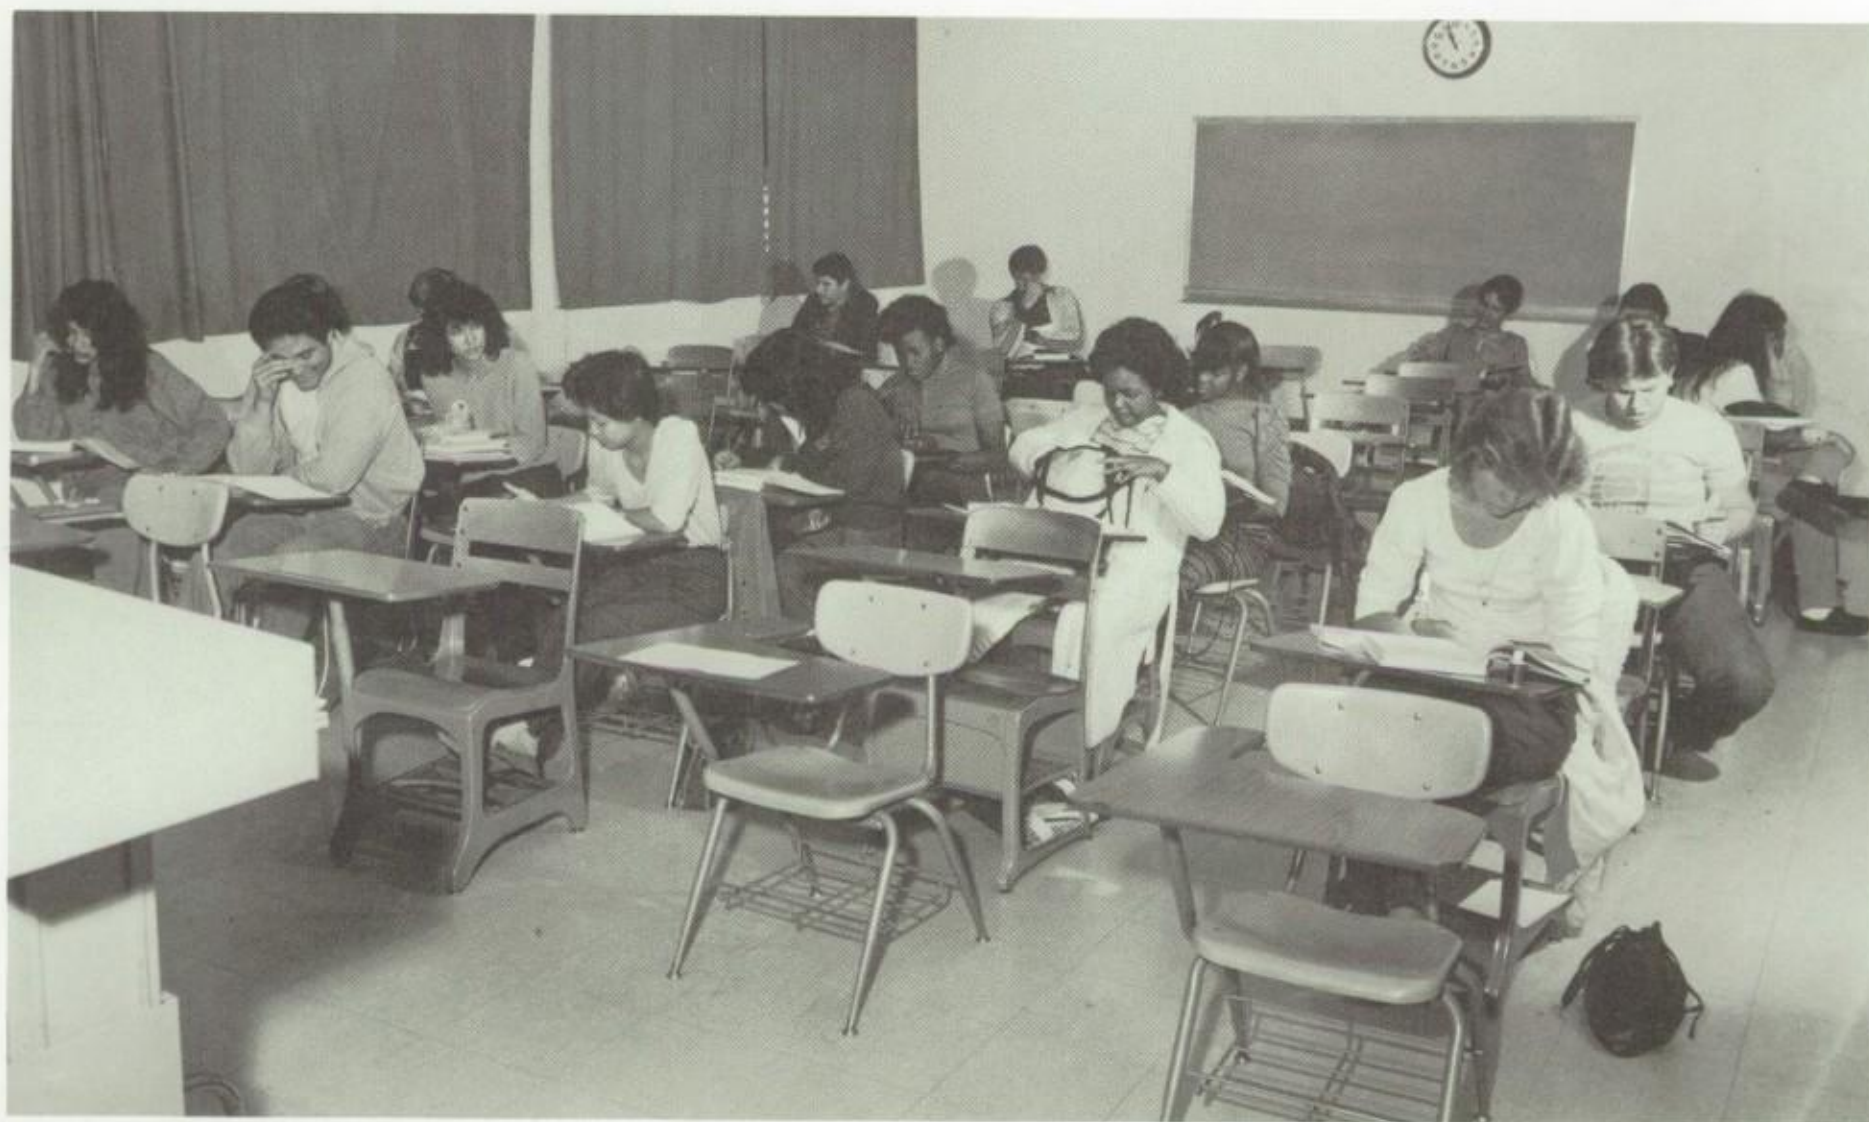

West High's new spirit line makes their first appearance at the Homecoming assembly.

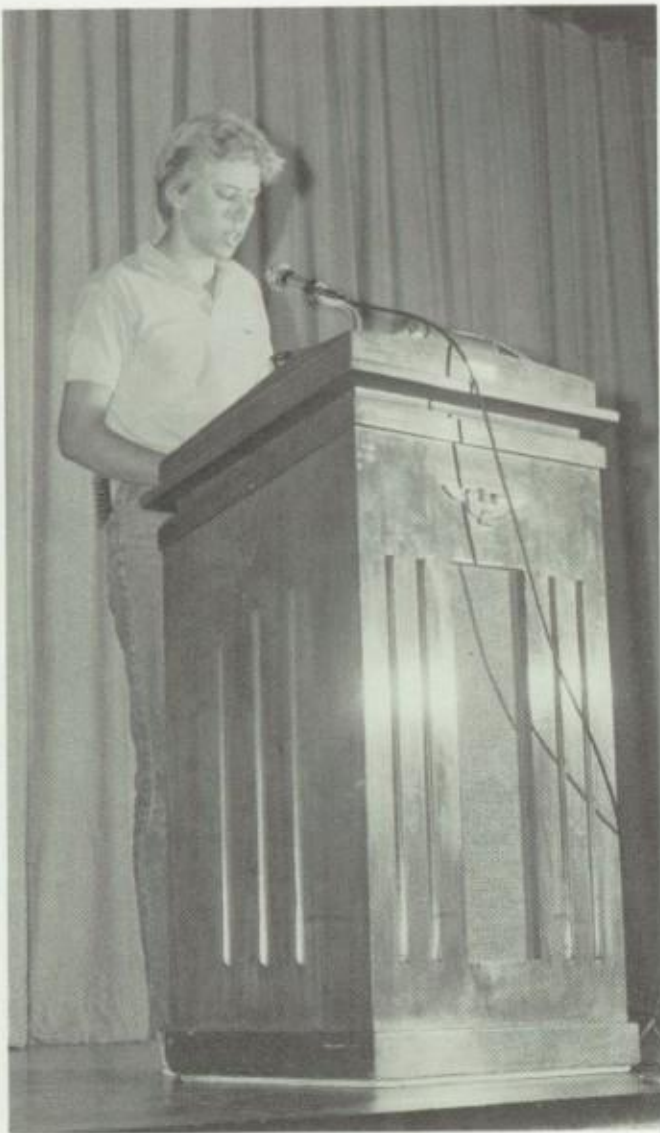

A well-dressed Greg Starling, senior, makes his speech for office at the student government office elections' assembly.

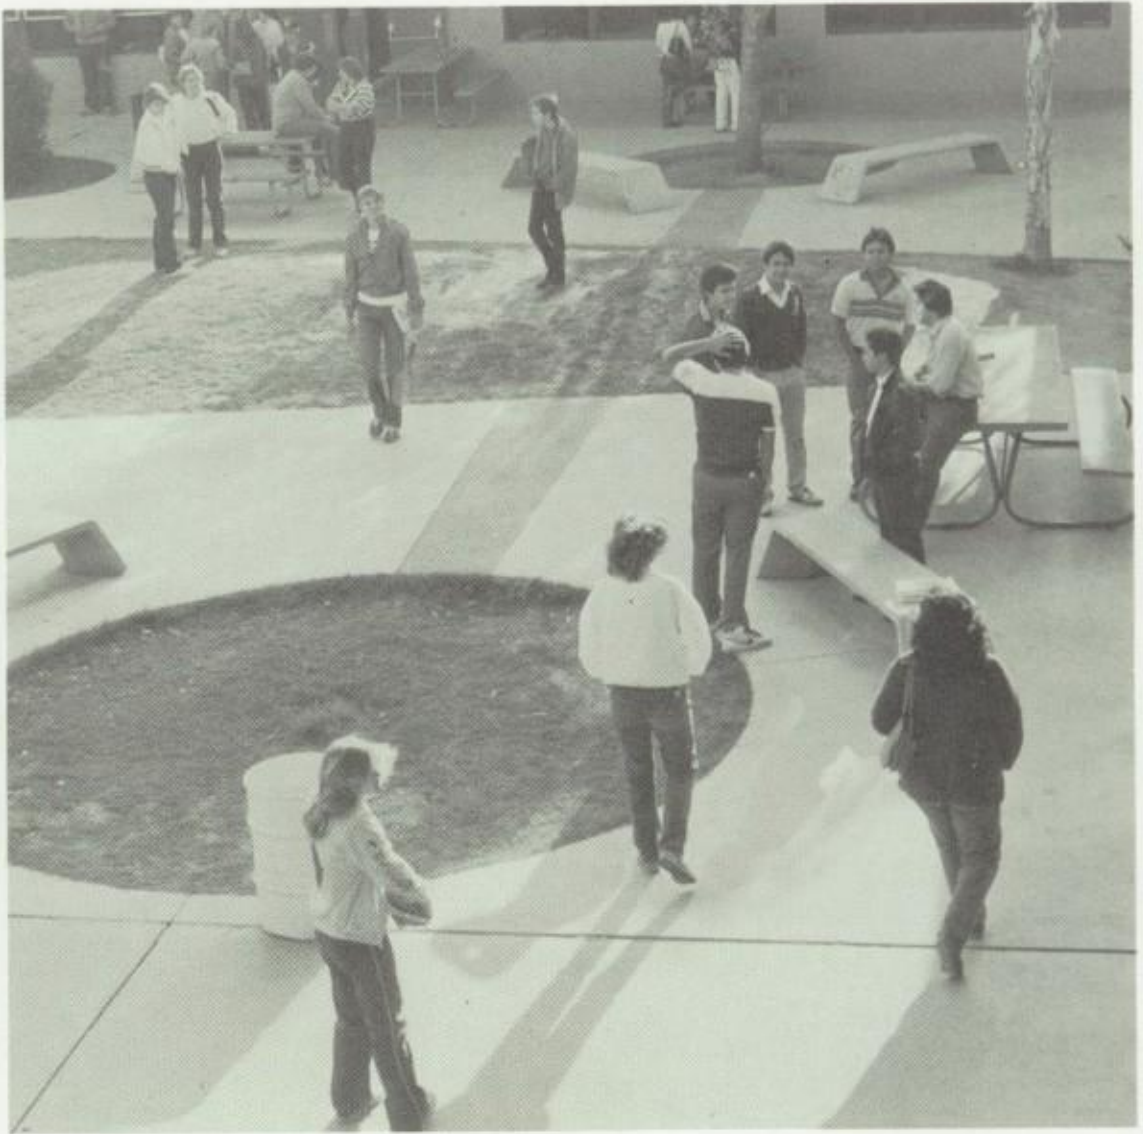

Kim Parker, Debbie Pitman and Maureen Murphy are waiting desperately for their missing belly buttons which are in the hand of hypnotist, Vandermeide.

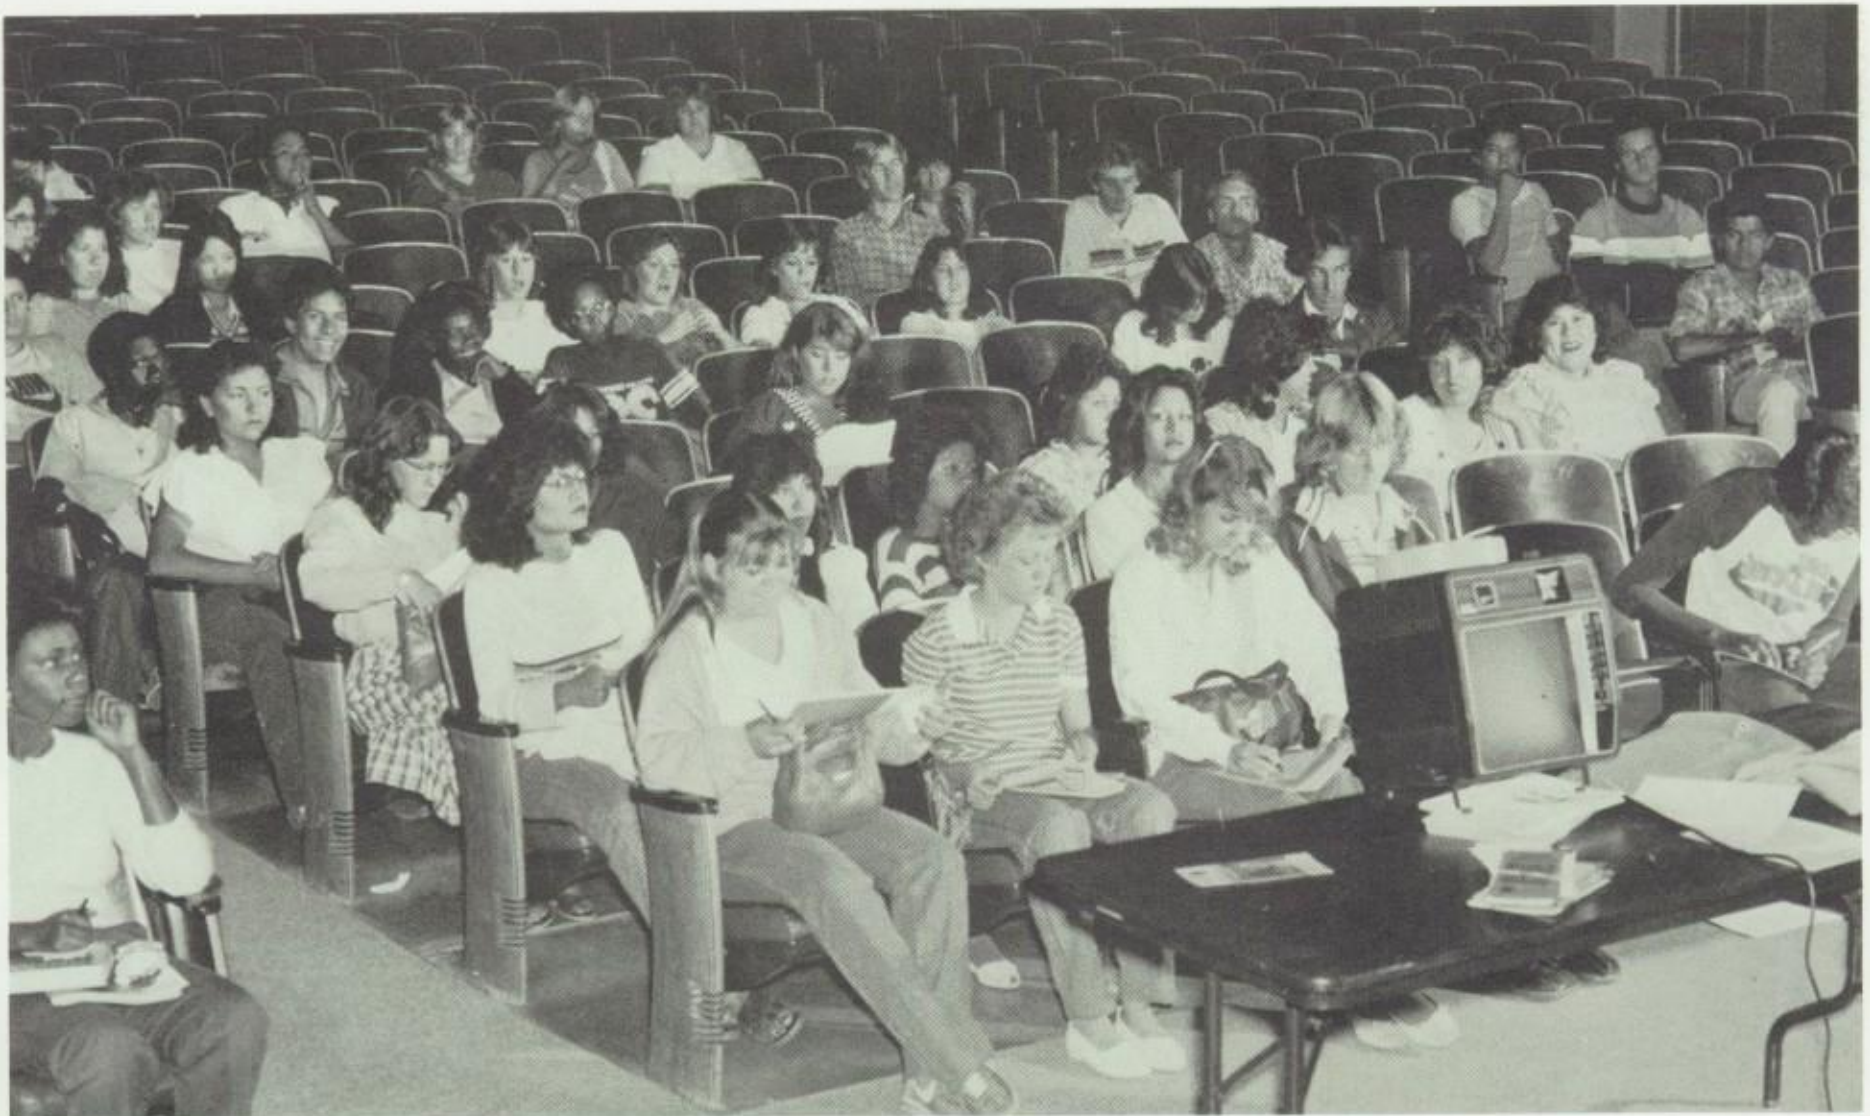

Mr. Ranshaw's 3rd period Free Enterprise class does their worksheets for chapter 2. Do you think Dan Bookout is asleep?

David Edwards, senior, is delivering his winning speech for the office of recording secretary.

Students wait impatiently in the quad area for the school doors to open. Due to the power outage though, they were all sent home for the day. Thank you APS!

Unaware that the camera is nearby, seniors intensely listen to a presentation given by representatives of Phoenix College on College Visitation Day. They are reading handouts with important information concerning early registration.

Nicole Leamon dances at the Christmas assembly to entertain the studentbody.

Carpenters Lonnie Watson and John Clark repairs the stairway doors in the B building before it gets to be summer. The air conditioning would have really had to work overtime if they didn't.

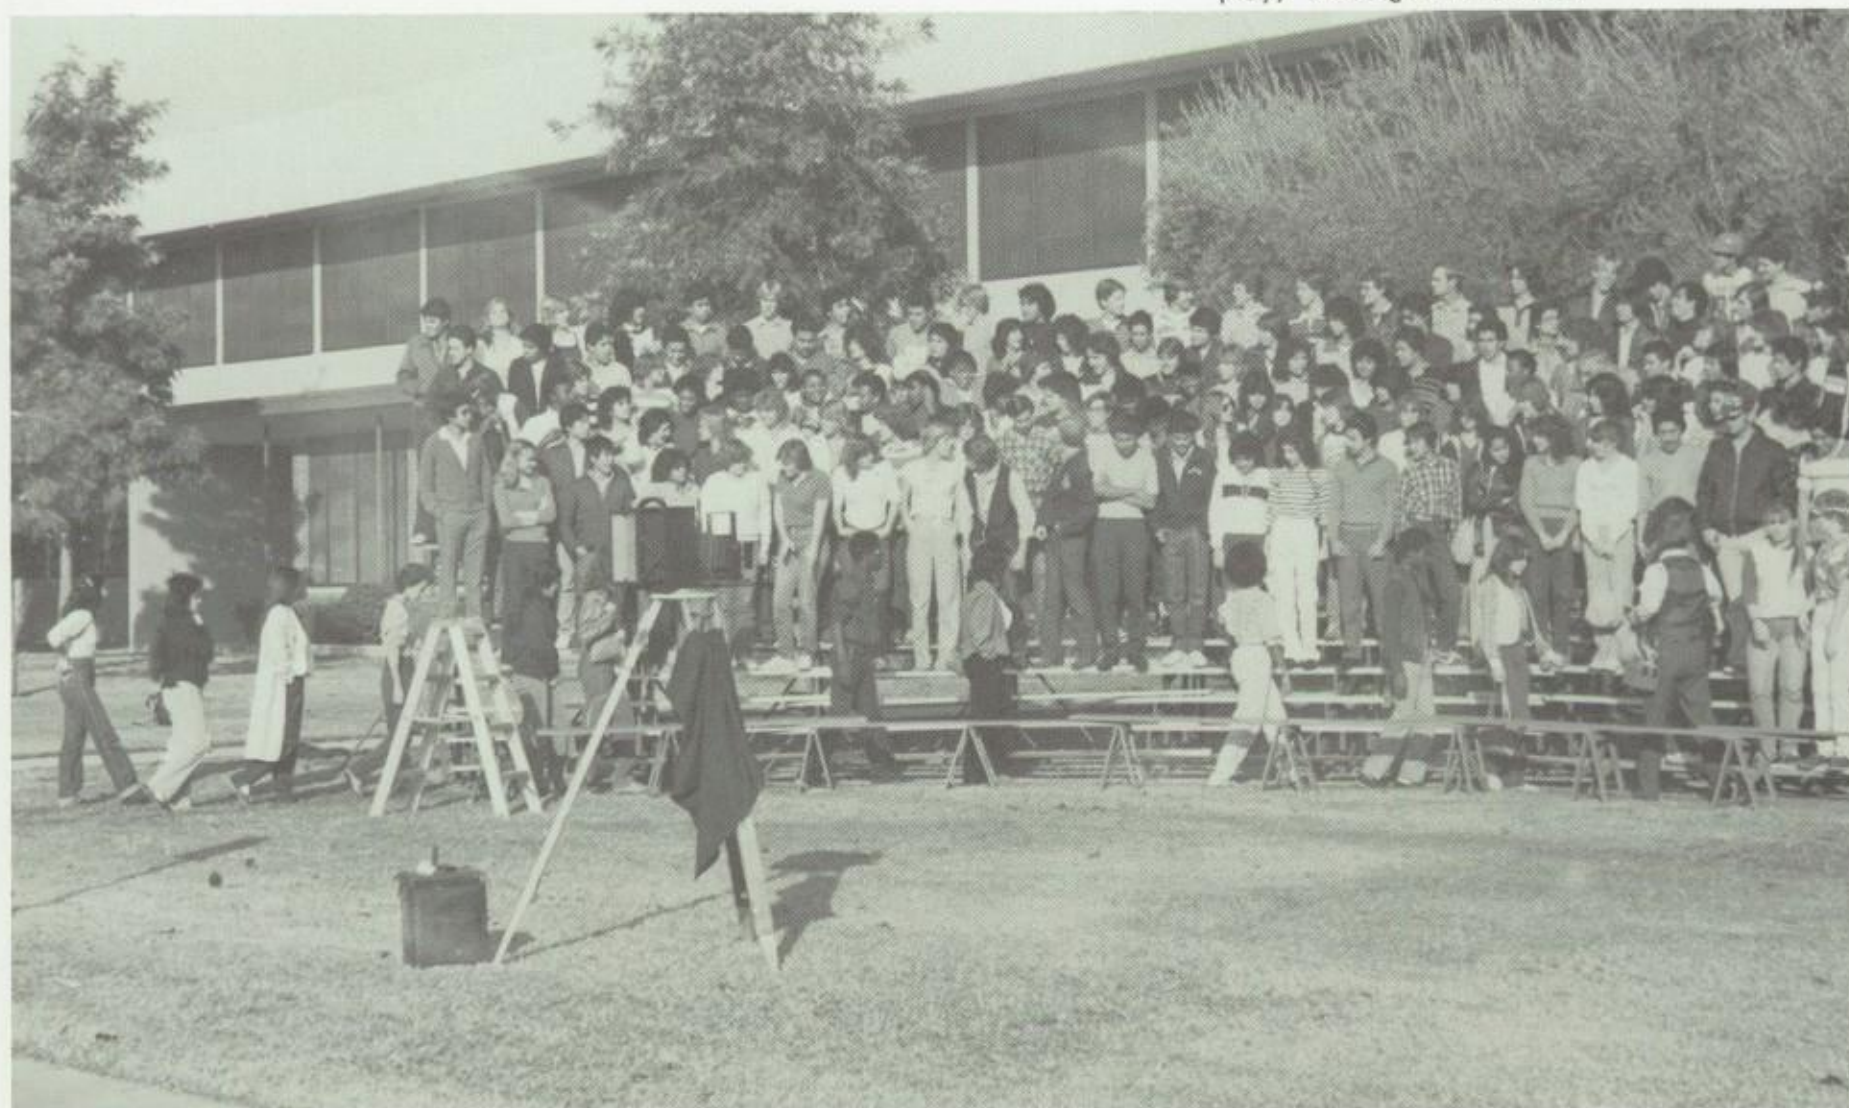

Mrs. Aahkus' child development class plays musical chairs as one of their activities for the nursery school located by the auditorium.

The presence of the ghost of Christmas present (Susan Copeland) frightens the pants off of Scrooge (Jeff Dragan) in the Christmas play, "Scrooge's Christmas."

The photographer from Goldbeck Company directs seniors where to stand for their class picture. They'll have to be careful getting down or the boards will slip!

Students from Mrs. Wolfe's third hour biology class work on their worksheets.

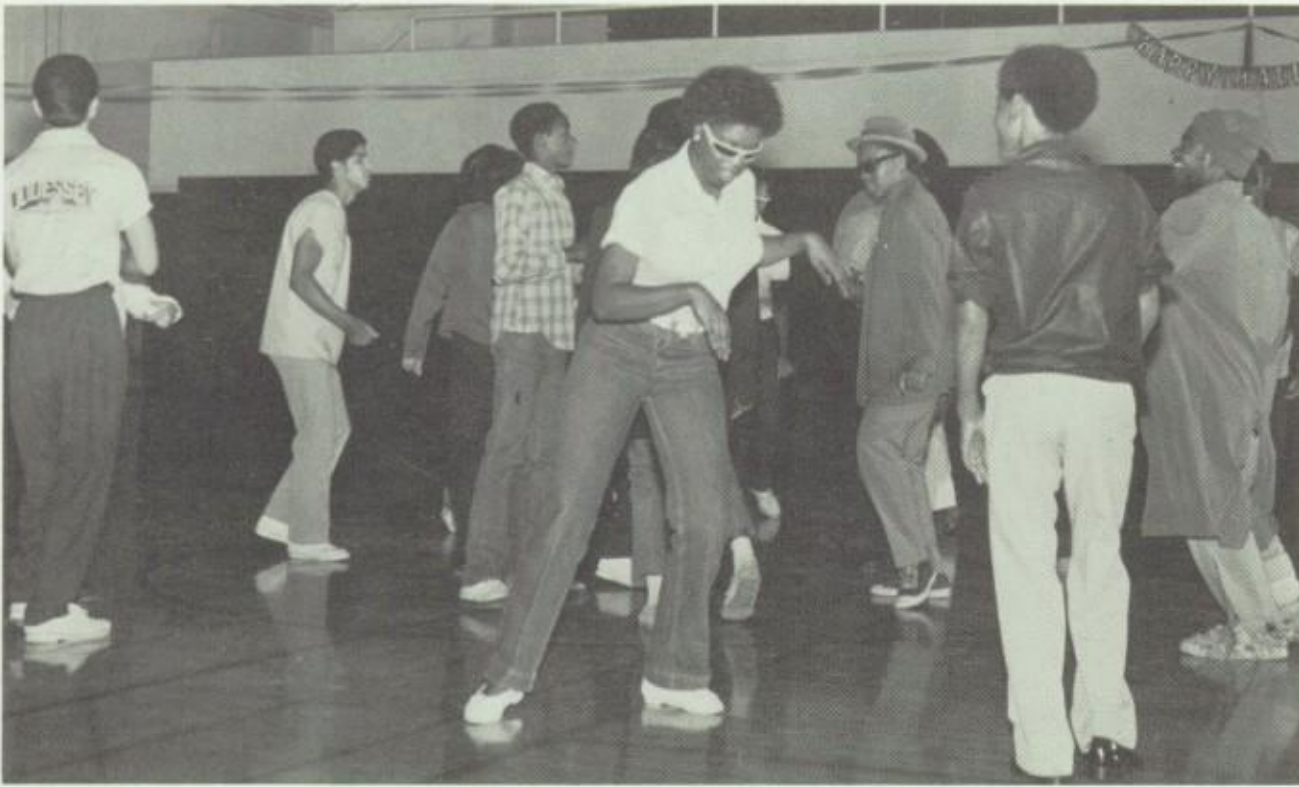

Dr. Kelly, Mr. Maddux, and Mr. Arredondo wait for their turn as ROTC's Colonel Salm finishes his speech at the principal's assembly.

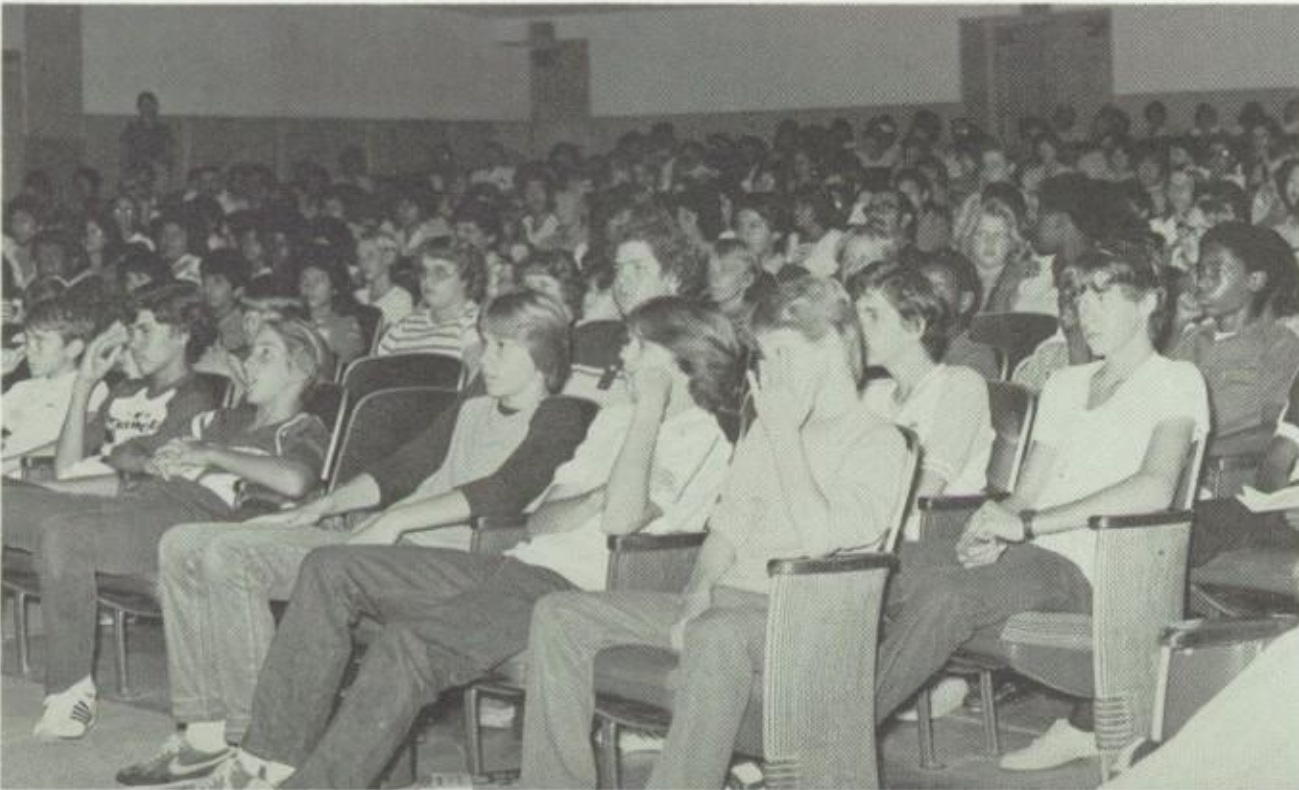

Danny Mace and Stella Murillo dissect a crayfish in Mrs. Wolfe's 6th hour biology class.

The Halloween dance sponsored by MECHA is held in the gym. It's turnout was very successful.

Camille Pitman, Jackie Restrepo, and Terry Leyba dance to "Santa Claus is Coming to Town" for the assembly on the day before Christmas vacation.

The student body for West this year was small enough so that they could all fit in the center section of the stadium.

The last year of West High School? It may be for some people, but to the rest, it will always remain in their memory.

Homecoming royalty wait for more names to be announced at the assembly in the stadium.

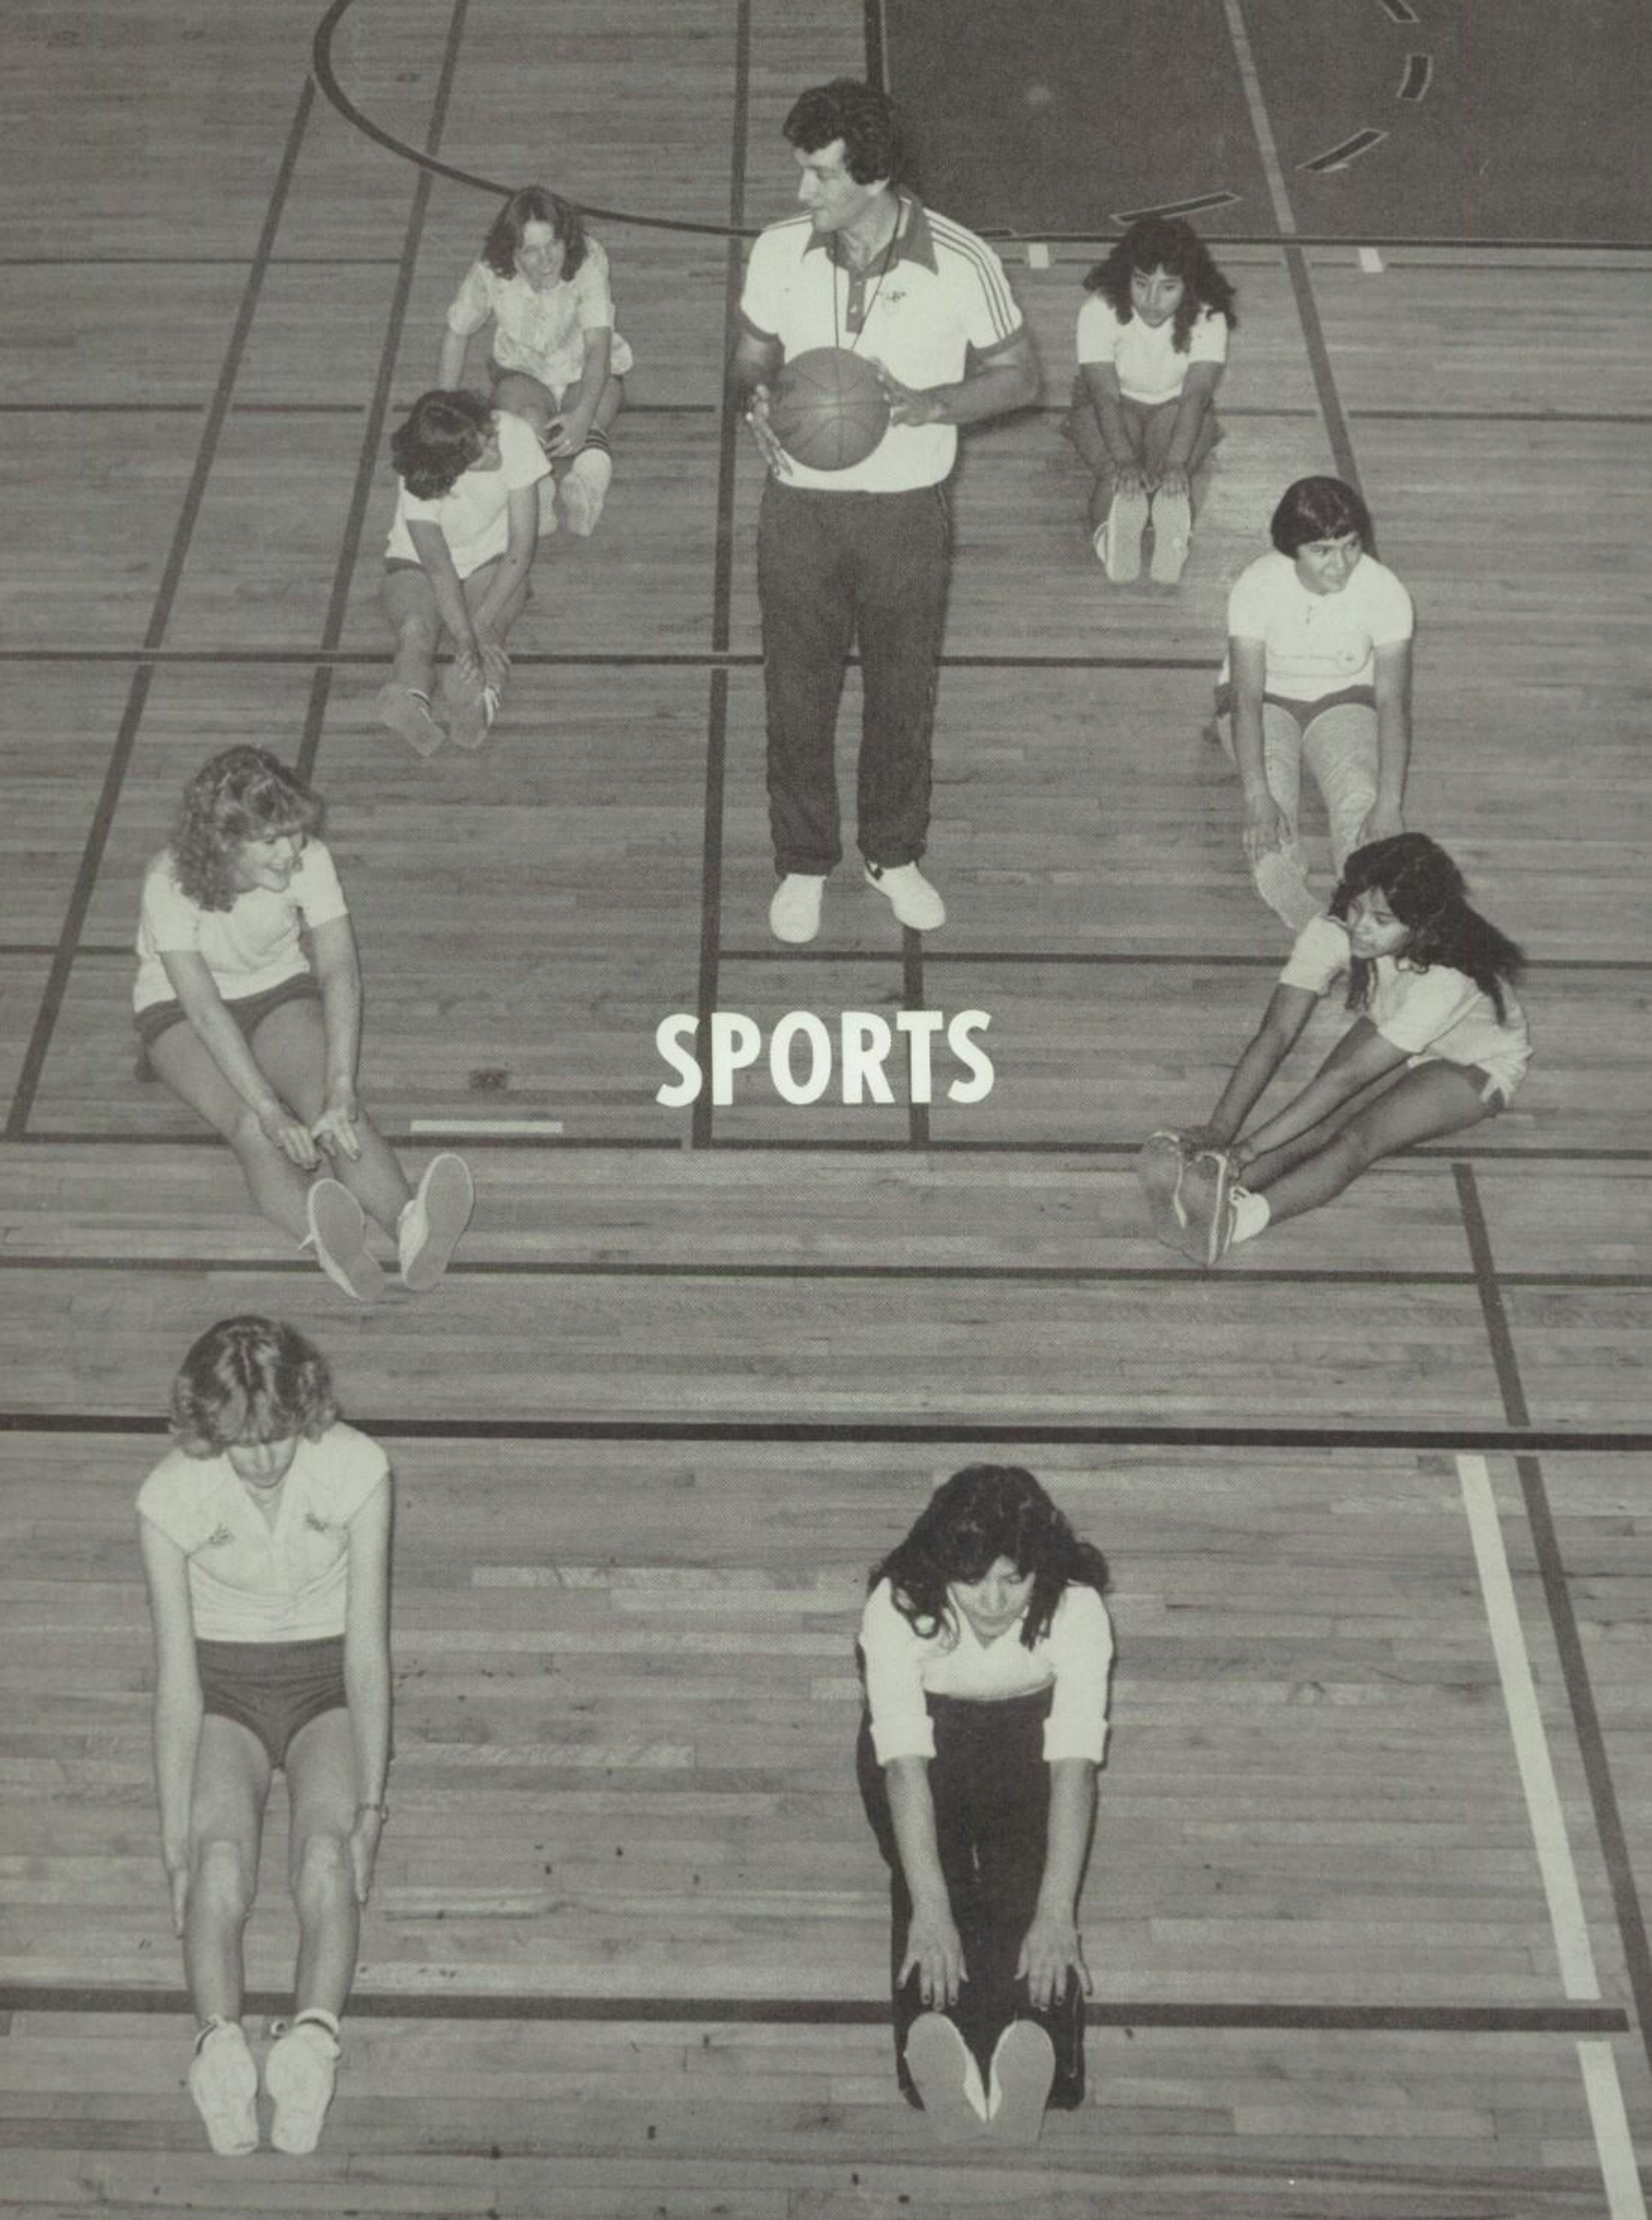

An upside-down piano lesson is given to students while under hypnosis featuring the famous works of Mozart, Bach, and Brahms.

Homecoming queen and king attendants, Brian Wills, Monalisa Bagg, Fernando Cota, Carolyn Cupani, Ron Scroggins, and Mitzi Murray talk to each other at the assembly.

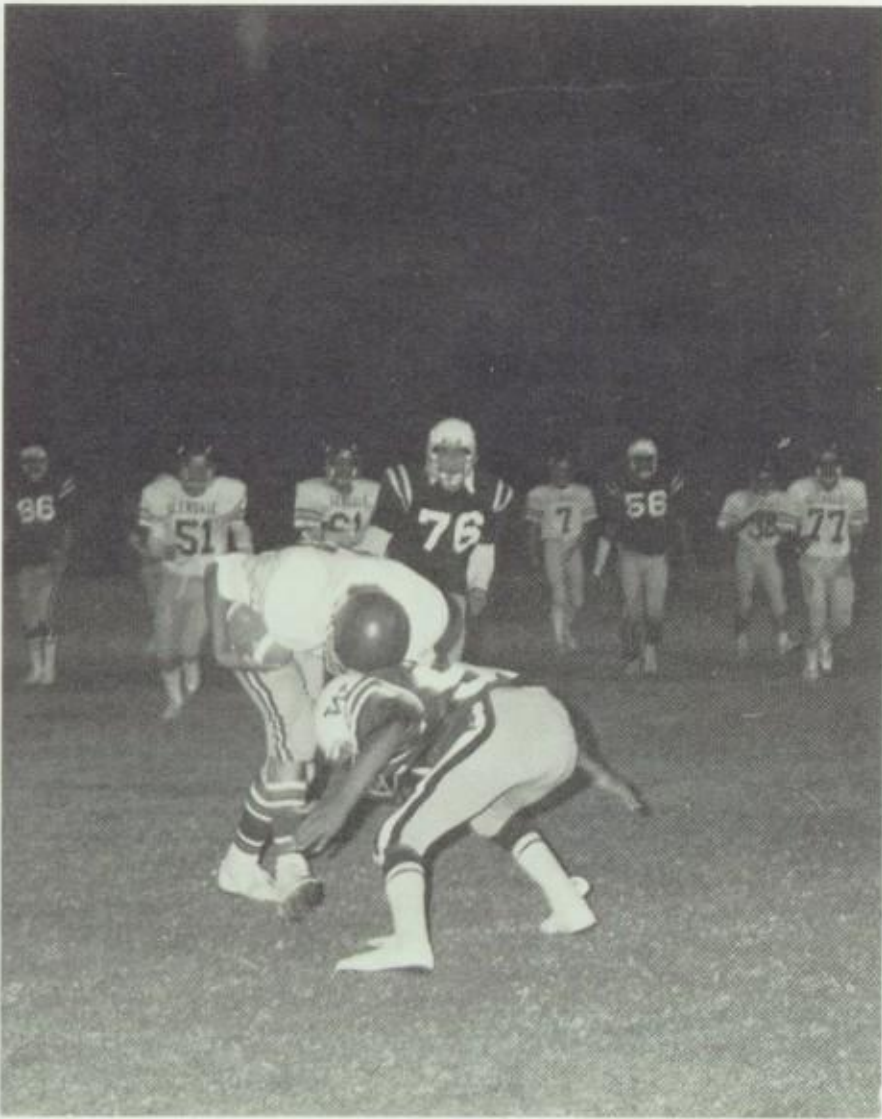

The "behind-the-screen" production crew is doing a great job for Mr. Bullock at the computer assembly.

SPORTS

MAN, THAT SMARTS! Getting set to make an open field tackle, that Thunderbird griddier butts heads with the Glendale ball carrier. Ben Cluff (86), Brian Wills (76) and Bill Albritton (56) are in the background.

In a complete rebuilding year, the Thunderbird junior varsity eleven ran into some hard times, rough teams and a very difficult schedule. Coach Gene Cox was faced with the task of molding a very inexperienced group of young men into a unit which could function as a team. The instruction and hours of hard practice all came together in the T-Bird's only win, a 27-3 romp over Arcadia. That game helped the team overcome some of the frustrations brought on by mistakes during the earlier season games. The top performers for the gridders were Billy Albritton, Art Burnett, Steve Cunningham, Ron Scroggins, Brian Wills, and Brian Wojciechowski. Wills and Fernando Cota were picked as co-captains, Jerry Moudy was named the top running back, Mike Copeland was selected as the most improved, and Mark Esquer as the spark plug of the squad.

J. V. FOOTBALL TEAM front row: Manager Allen Clark, Jeremy Pickett, Steve Cunningham, Tony Murillo, Dean Hicks, Charles Willis, Wade Prosise, Manuel Johnson, Edward Angulo, second row: Ron Scroggins, Robert Olea, Ruben Vasquez, Tony Thomas, Eugene Booker, Robert Vache, Leonard Cuellar, Tory Joseph, Jerry Moudy, Orlando Lopez, third row: Coach Gerald La Belle, Coach Gene Cox, Bill Albritton, Floyd Nicholson, Mark Esquer, Ron Cluff, Benny Trotter, Andy Fiese, Dan Mace, Manager Scott Hearne, Coach Jim Hatfield, Coach Reg Matthews, fourth row: James Osborne, Brian Wojciechowski, David Edwards, Mike Morales, Ben Cluff, Ron Duarte, Arthur Burnett, Brian Wills, Mike Copeland, Fernando Cota.

THIS ONE'S MINE! With his eyes fixed on his target, Wills (76) moves in to drop his opponent before he can get away. That's Jerry Moudy on the ground and Kevin Thomas (27) coming in to help out.

GO, LEONARD, GO! Turning on the speed, Leonard Cuellar races away from two Glendale tacklers. Making sure that Leonard won't be stopped are Wills (76) and Cunningham (17).

Due to scheduling problems, this year's freshman football squad was only given two chances to take the field. Although the team came out on the short end of the score in both contests, it was not because of the lack of desire and hustle; it was an old problem -- the lack of experience. Coach Reg Matthews named as his top players: Richard Otero, Benny Soto, Pete Galvan, Rudy Lugo, Manuel Rangel, and Andy Fiese.

CHASE HIM, GANG! As their opponent heads for an open field, Wade Proise (26), Ron Scroggins (77) and Ron Cluff (29) go after him in hot pursuit to make sure he doesn't go all the way for a T.D.

VOLLEYBALL

Highlighting the season for the T-Bird volleyball players was the big upset of Camelback High on the Spartan's homecoming night. Coach Denise Petersen's team was able to come away with the victory in a thrilling match by taking two games to one. During the season most of the matches were very close and exciting for the team and spectators. Coach Petersen was definitely pleased with the steady improvement and desire of her girls. For their outstanding efforts during each game, Cyenthia Battiest, team captain, and Jenell Ramella were selected as the most valuable players.

SOFTBALL

This year's J.V. softball team was young and inexperienced but grew with the season into a team that showed the potential of being a real winner in the future. Coach Matthew's nine, showing continued improvement, was able to split the year with 6 wins and 6 losses. Two outstanding contests came in the wins over Casa Grande and Scottsdale. These victories along with the three over Carl Hayden highlighted the season for these young ladies. Top hurler for the T-Birds was Dolly Pinkava who had five wins to her credit. Other outstanding performers were Jeannie Rodriguez, who was also named the most reliable player, and Teri Propati, who had the most home runs. The coach and team picked Sylvia Vasquez as the most improved player; Teresa Smock, most hardworking; and Debbie Castro as the squad's spark plug.

BASKETBALL

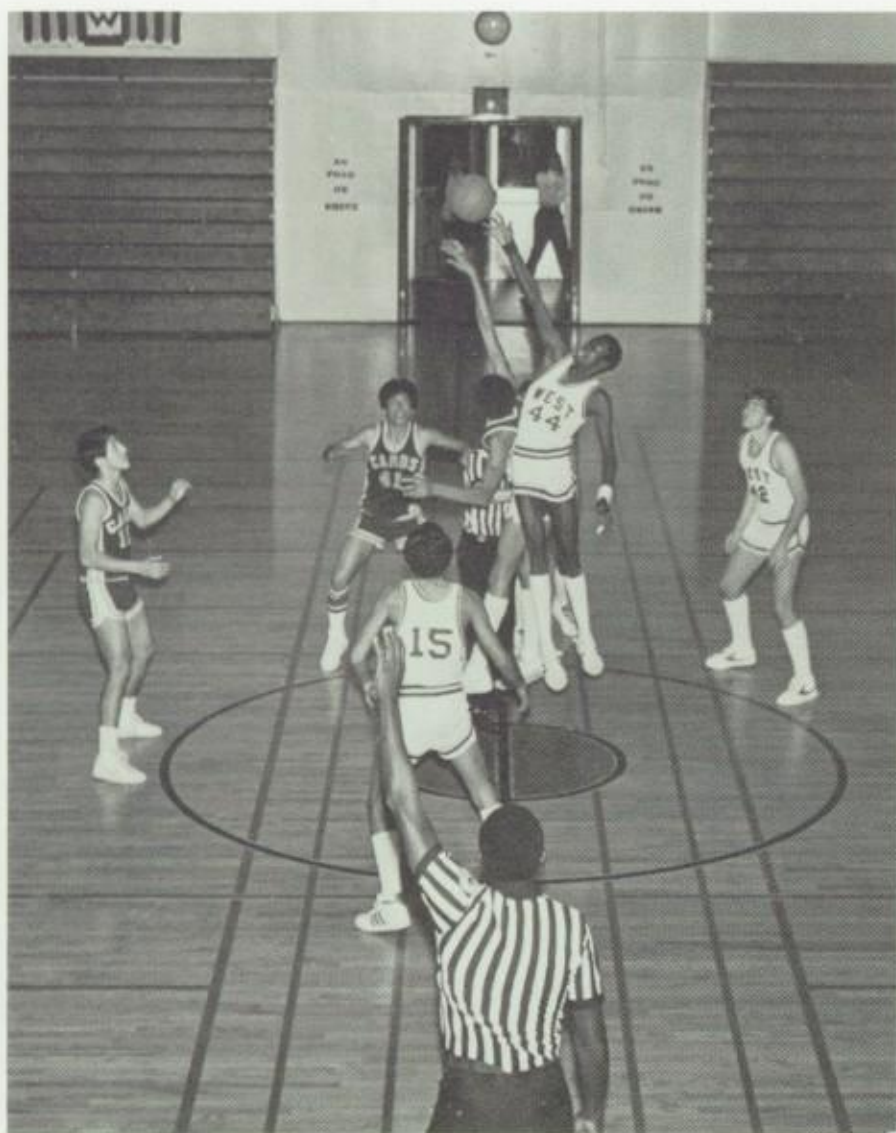

Winning was the way this year for the junior varsity cagers as they ran and shot their way through a tough schedule, scoring 11 wins against only seven defeats. Highlighting the season were many very close games with victory hanging on the rim until the last few seconds. Especially exciting were the games against Camelback and Glendale. In the second Camelback tilt, the T-Bird five, trailing by five points with only 45 seconds remaining, shut off the Spartans completely and won by four counters. Against Glendale, a last second shot by Jim Coker ripped the nets, giving the locals the win. Coach Jim Hatfield considered, however, that the games against Cactus and Trevor Browne were the team's finest efforts, not because they won, but in those games the Thunderbirds played as a team and made very few mistakes. As the Coach said about his team, "There were no individual stars; the success of the team was due to a balance of talent and their aggressive play on defense." Donald Rodgers was given the honor as being the best all-around player; Mark Florendo and Anthony Mitchell, the most improved; Jim Coker, the best free throw shooter; and Phuong Dang, the player with the most hustle.

THIS ONE'S MINE! Brian Wills stretches to grab a high pass meant for a Glendale player. Jerry Coker (12) is ready to control the ball if it gets away from Brian.

J. V. BASKETBALL front row: Donald Rodgers, Jerry Coker, Steve Cunningham, Phuong Dang, back row: Coach Jim Hatfield, Brian Wills, Ken Perez, Dave Oens, Mark Florendo, Floyd Nickelson.

CONTROLLING THE TIP — Robert Moore (44) out jumps his opponent to get the opening tip off against Glendale. Mark Florendo (15) and Wills (42) wait to see which way the ball goes.

GOING FOR TWO — Even with that Cardinal holding him, Mitchell (45) is able to muscle his way inside to put in another two points. Florendo (15) and Rodgers (22) are in position to get the ball if Anthony misses.

With only seven remaining on the squad, the freshman team proved their desire and hustle by scoring three wins in their last six contests. The most impressive performances turned in by the squad came in the two victories over Glendale and the defeat of Trevor Browne. Selected as the most valuable player was Tony Johnson; the most improved was Ellis Ogles and Ronnie Williams received the "Mr. Hustle" award.

Opening their schedule with a come-from-behind win over Arcadia, the J.V. baseball team continued their winning ways throughout most of the 1983 season. Another big win for the T-Birds was the 12-4 rout of Carl Hayden. In that tilt they swatted 12 hits and pilfered 13 bases. Coach Robert Young voiced his pleasure with his team's hustle, dedication and hard work. Those qualities enabled the local nine to achieve much of its success. For their efforts the coach named the following boys as his outstanding performers: Bill Albritton, whose home run highlighted the Arcadia tilt, Dwane Carpenter, Mario Armendarez, Frank Canez and Chris Jackson.

FRESHMAN BASEBALL members: front: Leonard Cuellar, Cecilio Garcia, Ben Soto, Richard Orto, Rudy Lugo, back: Gabriel Armavica, Danny Vasquez, Hector Baca, Phillip Burris and Coach Reg Matthews.

The biggest win for this year's freshman baseball squad was the 9-0 defeat of Carl Hayden. Besides shutting out the Falcons, Coach Reg Matthews horsehidors played errorless ball. The coach cited the excellent play of Phil Burres at short-stop and the pitching of Gabriel Amavica as a highlight of the season. Other individuals who gave outstanding performances were Richard Otero, Cecilio Garcia, Ben Soto and Tony Murillo.

Inexperience was the main problem that the girls' basketball squad had to face during the 1983 schedule. Even though it was composed of mostly freshmen, Coach Bill Iannelli's five proved to be very competitive while playing at the junior varsity level. Senior Dolly Pinkava was a steady influence and an outstanding performer for the Thunderbird quintet. Also noteworthy was the hustle displayed by Lupe Gutierrez throughout the season. Getting all the girls to show up at one time was, according to the coach, one of his highlights of the season.

Damon,

It was a great pleasure meeting you, this year was really great. I hope you don't mind when I call you gorgeous. It is the plain truth. You are the worlds best looking surfer. I hope you come here next year. Then I can get some more, surfer bod.
I know we met years ago. I mean with you living by me. It is to bad we met this late in the year.
I wish it was sooner. So what are your plans. Looking through this, it will be memorable. Just think you can show your kids the prison you went to.
You have everything going for you, your bod, sweet,
Nice, care about everybody, smile, reputation, and espically your bod again. What ever you do, don't get into trouble. If you know what I mean. I dedicate, Get down on it, to you. I know alot of girls who would like too. Well all I have to say is, take care, and God Bless You.

Love ya,

Karyn

Daman, "H?" I really do wish we would have "met" earlier, but there's always next year! I'll tell you a secret, I shake my head to rotate the air! So I have a good reason after all! Actually I'm not as dumb as everyone thinks. I'm glad you're going here next year. West needs all the help it can get. I really can't figure why we never talked before, maybe I figured you'd laugh. I don't know! You know, you really are cute. I suppose you've been told plenty though! You got alot going in your direction and I know you can do anything you want. "Life at West" is really boring and ~~out~~ out of me, I may go to Central or P.C. if I can. Central is totally jammin'. I could go to Greer but that place is like a prison! no windows! Say me! Well, at least I can say West is better than something. Well, I'd better sign off before your girlfriend (you have to have one!) gets ~~in~~ Later days, better days.
